

Jessica Nelson is a bilingual financial representative who seeks to work with people from all walks of life! She was born in the Bronx, as a first-generation American. Her parents instilled pride of her Dominican culture. As a result, she continues to be proficient in Spanish and services her community in both languages. Based on her humble beginnings, she recognizes that in order to see your wealth grow you should follow these basic principles: Spend less than you make, Be wise with debt, protect yourself against setbacks, have short-and-long-term plans, and give back to your community. Jessica knows that with a plan, patience, relationships, and prayer all things are possible! She worked for 18 years as an educator and was passionate about taking her role as teacher to share her talents and treasures with thousands of young minds! Now she is thrilled about taking her second journey, as a financial representative, and utilizing her teaching skills to educate others about financial literacy in her community! Jessica is a licensed Insurance Producer and is currently on the track to receive her securities license and wealth management credentials to better serve her clients. She holds a Bachelor's Degree in Linguistics and a minor in International Relations from the University of Maryland Baltimore County (UMBC) and a Master's Degree from Notre Dame of Maryland University.
